PROLOGUE

The dedication of this annual, rather than recognizing the personality of any particular individual, wishes to hail the outstanding spirit with which the Wyomissing High School has served the youth of our community through years of enlightenment. Although it may be difficult to portray that which is intangible, we wish, in the following pages, to bring forth to you vividly through picture and word, an artistic picture of school life: this life, in all its varied activity, is the means by which we would like to introduce to you the Spirit of Wyomissing High School.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

A strong morale is of no value unless it is properly guided unto the higher, worthwhile things of life. Guidance is even more valuable if it is not too evident or presumptuous.

Because the school spirit of Wyomissing High has been given that skillful, quiet guidance by the administration of our institution, we feel that it is altogether fitting and proper that we set aside a small portion in our portrayal of school life in recognition of that guiding light. We appreciate the efforts of the administration and sincerely hope that this small section may do justice to their achievements.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1934 the portals of Wyomissing High opened to the largest Freshman class in the history of the school. Seventy-six wide-eyed and open-mouthed pupils had become the grown-ups of the junior high and the babies of the senior high. Previous Colophons have chronicled their triumphs and adventures as freshmen, sophomores and juniors. This Colophon will therefore record the last chapter in the annals of the class of 1938.

In September it was found that the members of the senior class had dwindled to about fifty in number. Still large enough, however, to be the largest class to ever enter and leave the school.

After an organization meeting at which William Fritz was elected president; Harvey Kalbach, vice president; Charles Hoffman, treasurer; and Betty Evans, secretary, the class held its opening banquet at the Thomas Jefferson Tea Room, Charles Hoffman, in his usual affable way, acted as toastmaster.

October fifteenth found about twenty of the seniors sitting around a campfire at Sugar Loaf toasting marshmallows and roasting hot dogs. It was the climax of a short hike on which Mr. Haag acted as chaperone.

Under Theodore Lunine's direction the seniors presented a variety assembly program replete with subtle humor, music by "Shep" Steffy and the boys, and songs by Vernon Meyers and Evelyn Haag. It was an attempt of the class to show the school just what was meant by bigger and better programs.

Roy Lightner proved to be the lone pillar of the seniors in the Guy Knowlton Sembower Oratorical Contest and upheld the honor of the class by carrying off second place.

On February nineteenth, braving wind and rain, the class journeyed to Hershey via the Reading Railroad Special to witness a hockey game between the Hershey Bears and the New York Rovers. Fist fights among the players only added to the excitement of the seniors in the audience.

At 8:30 o'clock on May seventh the seniors strolled to their last school dance held at the Wyomissing Club. It was the Junior-Senior Prom. Those of the upper-classmen responsible for its success included Marie Spotts, Ruth Breitinger, Fritz Hessemer, Charles Hoffman, and William Fritz.

On June twelfth, capped and gowned, the seniors listened to an inspiring sermon preached by the Reverend Mr. Hahn.

After the closing senior banquet, at which the faculty were the guests of the class the commencement program took place. Its subject dealing with Propaganda proved to be somewhat startling and informative.

Then to the majestic tone of Pomp and Circumstance the scholars marched to the stage of the auditorium to receive their sheepskins and to leave the school still the largest class in its history.

SENIOR ASSEMBLY

In our most unusual assembly of the year, we were introduced to the swing music of our own inimitable "Shep" Steffy. We also were rolled in the aisles by a reincarnation of an old-fashioned melodrama. The sweet warbling of our Senior Serenaders, Evelyn Haag and Vernon Meyers, took us back to the days of our tender childhood. But the show was stolen by our hero, Ellis Kirk, our villain, John Bowman, and our heroine, Elsa Livingood. What a crazy assembly!

JUNIOR GIRLS

Since girls do not participate in sports outside of class scrimmages, they have confined themselves to intra-mural sports. Marie Christ, captain of the soccer team, was aided by Kathryn Kaulback, Elinor Klein, Geraldine O'Connor, and Margaret Glase.

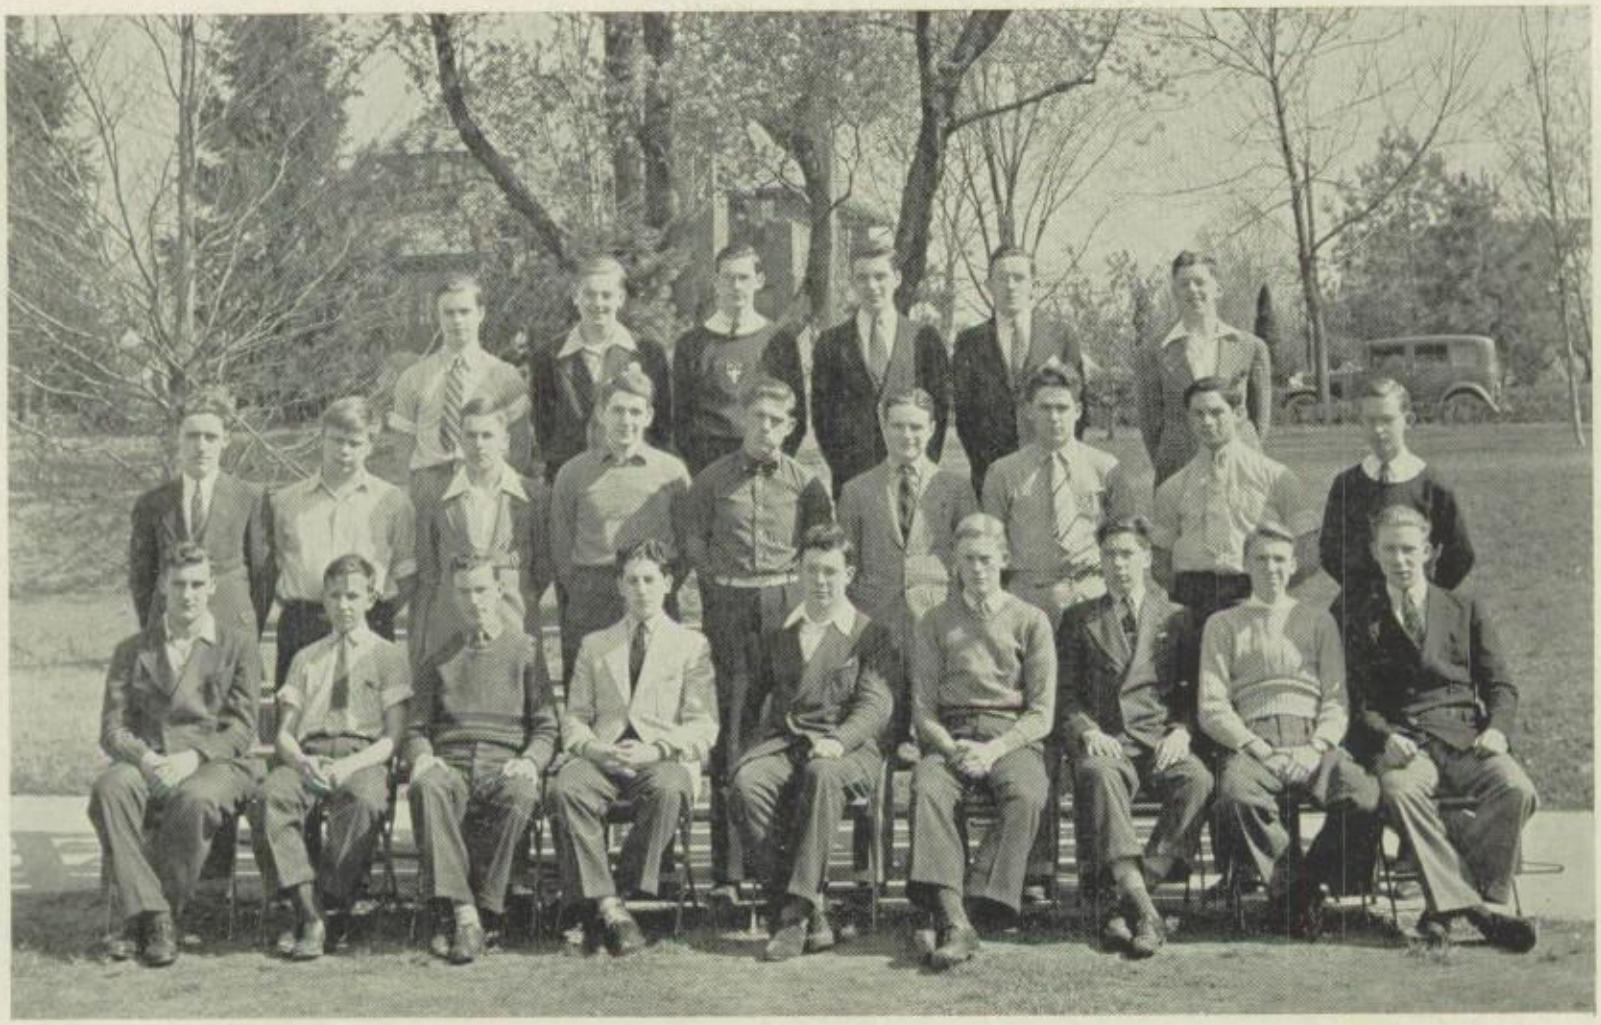
Captain Goddard with Jane Golding, Margaret Ann Kellum, Anna Heck, Helen Harner, Betty Morris, Helene Wenger, Kathryn Kaulback, Marjorie Freidman, Margaret Glase, Marie Christ, and Mary Ulrich guided the hockey team to "runner-up" for the championship.

Basketball season was here and the Junior girls turned out in large numbers. Doris Beebe and Geraldine O'Connor were captains of the two teams which included Pearl Schell, Margaret Seidel, Eleanor Hoppe, Marie Christ, Elinor Klein, Betty Morris, Helen Harner, Dorothy Goddard, Margaret Glase, and Jane Golding.

With Margaret Seidel as captain of volley ball and deck tennis, the following participated in both sports: Eleanor Hoppe, Doris Beebe, Pearl Schell, Dorothy Goddard, Jane Golding, Helen Harner, Margaret Glase, Marie Christ, Marjorie Freidman, and Elinor Klein.

The Junior girls have not only been active in sports but in clubs as well. Three of the cabinet of the Tri-Hi-Y Club are juniors: Dorothy Wertz as vice president, Mary Breidenbaugh as treasurer, and Pauline Albright as reporter, proving that the Junior class is an active group.

Colophon



JUNIOR BOYS

In the early fall, the Junior class swung into action with the election of its class officers. The Juniors, divided over three homerooms, met in the auditorium to elect Paul Martin as president, Leon Herron as vice president, Pauline Albright for secretary and James Ruth for treasurer. The class of 1939, carrying with it, thus far, the largest membership in the history of Wyomissing High, has been ably guided through its Junior year under the leadership of its officers.

Our Junior boys have been active participants in all sports this year. Doing their best to carry the soccer team to success were Bob Hettinger, Charlie Mohn, Red Gabel, John Frymoyer, Rickie Guldin, and Paul Martin.

Basketball season rose to its peak with Kenneth Gabel, Robert Hettinger, Charles Mohn, John Frymoyer, John Snyder, James Ruth, Todd Buckmiller, and Paul Martin starring for Wyomissing from the Junior class.

With the arrival of spring came the track meets and our athletes Robert Hettinger, Charles Mohn (who have been stars in all our major sports this year), James Harwick, Paul Martin, Richard Baureithal, and Melvin Lehman took their respective "work-outs" at the track.

Many of the Junior class are members of the various extra-curricular clubs, contributing actively to all phases of the school life.

COLOPHON STAFF

It was usually poor policy to catch a member of the Colophon staff off-guard when you asked him a question for, nine chances out of ten, you would have received an unintelligible answer. The members, you see, were swimming around in a sea of picas, deadlines, copy, dummies, font, point, and a million other terms connected with the art of publishing. They eventually succeeded in extracting themselves and, under the guidance of Mr. Rank, their advisor, published this, the year book for 1938, with the hopes that it will give the reader a glimpse of the school life in the Wyomissing High School.

GARGANTUAN STAFF

We hail The Gargantuan! In its fifth year of publication it was awarded honorary mention in the Pennsylvania School Press Association contest for mimeographed high school newspapers. Although the paper had been entered in two previous contests, it was not able until this year to place among the meritorious mimeographed publications.

Partly as a result of this honor, and partly as a result of its growing importance in the school life, the board presented to the staff a new model, electric mimeograph machine.

Through the money gained from advertisements, which the local merchants have placed in the publication, the staff, itself, has been able to add many new and intricate devices to its store of duplicating equipment.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Introduced into our school ten years ago, the local chapter of the National Honor Society has long been a stimulus to scholastic achievement and extra-curricular participation. Being a purely honorary group in our school, the only activity the society experienced this year was the purchase of pins; however, it is looking forward to organization and greater activity with its new advisor in years to come.

The planks in the platform upon which students start as members are Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

Membership, determined by the faculty, is limited to fifteen per cent of the senior class and five per cent of the junior class. The seniors in the society during the past year were Dorothy Kift, LeRoy Lightner, Eugenie Hertzog, Betty Evans, Elsa Livingood, Vernon Meyers, Sumner Reid and Fritz Hessemer. The juniors were Kenneth Gable, Paul Martin, Dorothy Wertz, and Pauline Albright. Mr. Paul Bechtel, high school English teacher, served as advisor.

DEBATE CLUB

"Unicameralism versus Bicameralism!" Don't get your dictionary, readers, for that was just the issue debated throughout the county, February twenty-fifth. Early that morning our negative team, composed of Ruth Apprich, Betty Hess, Theodore Lunine, and Joseph Gormley, traveled to Birdsboro where the question was altercated impetuously and intelligently. The critic judge favored the Birdsboro team with the decision.

However, our affirmative side, represented by Arline White, John Clark, LeRoy Lightner, and Dorothy Wertz, which debated in the afternoon on our rostrum, fared somewhat better. In this case the judge favored the arguments presented for one house legislature by our team. Thus our record for the day stood at .500 per cent.

Mr. Henry and Mr. Bechtel coached the negative and affirmative teams, respectively.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

As Nero fiddled while Rome burned, so did Erwin Funk while the senior high school assembly December 7 burned with anxiety. The occasion of this melodrama was the climax of the twelfth annual Guy Knowlton Sembower Oratorical Contest. The four orations which were selected by three of the faculty, were now being judged by Mrs. George Dudley, Mr. Lance of West Reading High School, and Miss Blake of Wilson High School. Very fine orations were delivered by Arlene White, LeRoy Lightner, Peggy Thompson and Betty Muller.

"A More Flexible Constitution" by Arlene White and "Neutrality for America" by LeRoy Lightner were considered by the judges worthy of the first prize of five dollars and second of three, respectively.

Colophon

DRAMATIC CLUB

The Dramatic Club had the distinction this year of being the fastest-growing club in the school. The membership is now at the maximum. The monthly meetings were devoted to business and to speakers who discussed angles of Dramatic Art of interest to the members. The main purpose of the club was to aid other departments in their assembly programs. The main activity, however, was the annual school play presented on February 16.

PUPPET CLUB

This was a banner year for the Puppet Club. The members acquired a new nine-foot stage, and several new large puppets.

At Christmas the club gave a show at the Iris Club's children's party depicting the development of anthracite coal. Shortly afterward the members aided the Tri-Hi-Y's children's party with a puppet circus. In the spring several other shows were given: The Junior High School witnessed an English comedy entitled "Box and Cox"; The Senior High School and the Grade School, "The Story of Anthracite."

ORCHESTRA

Friday, two o'clock P. M., marks the assembly of our orchestra. At first, all sorts of squeaks, toots, and blasts peal out from fiddles, clarinets, and trumpets. Gradually the sounds die away and peace prevails. Miss Wanner raises her baton and the rehearsal begins. Incidentally, it is already two-ten.

Many well-loved selections have been added to the repertoire of the orchestra. Among those delightful numbers are "Ave Maria," "Invitation to the Dance," and the Hungarian Dances, numbers Five and Six.

Miss Wanner has very ably conducted this group of young musicians toward new heights in harmonic accomplishments.

BAND

If you have been taking an interest in this fast maturing group, you will have begun to notice that no longer can the band be called a noise-making organization. It is now a well-conducted assemblage of persons who are finding an interest in music.

Assembly programs and School Entertainment Night have given the band a worth-while opportunity to display its ability. Some of the selections which set our feet tapping were "The Whistler and His Dog," "Anchors Aweigh," "Orpheus" (Overture), and two of John Philip Sousa's well-known marches, "Washington Post March," and "The Thunderer."

To Mr. York, the capable conductor of the band, we extend our best wishes for a growing and ever progressing organization.

TRI-HI-Y

The years nineteen hundred and thirty-seven and nineteen hundred and thirty-eight marked the establishment of a new club. With the aroma of frankfurters and marshmallows the Wyomissing Tri-Hi-Y surrounded a friendly fire at an annual camp week-end and discussed the significance of their new name.

Social service projects were their fundamental aim throughout the year. Among these undertakings, they enjoyed entertaining needy children at a Christmas party, making hospital bandages, and aiding the Easter bunny to fill baskets for invalids.

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y members extend their best wishes to those who will carry on, "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

President, Sumner Reid; Vice President, James Ruth; Secretary, Joseph Stockler; Treasurer, LeRoy Lightner; Chaplain, Paul Martin, and Mr. Rank, Advisor.

HI-Y

Four raps of the gavel officially opened the fourteenth year of Hi-Y activity with a banquet at Shartlesville.

Each following Thursday evening at 7:30, the gavel again sounded in room No. 16 as club members met to keep ever mindful of their purpose and slogan, to transact club business, and to enjoy listening to guest speakers.

With all due credit and thanks to the many fine speakers, the events that will probably be remembered the longest are the banquets, the Inter-Club Dance, the Hershey Trip, and the Radio Broadcast.

INTER-CLUB DANCE

Perhaps "Anchors Aweigh" should have been the theme of the 1937 Inter-Club Dance, for that was the first impression made by the gangplank, life-buoys, and portholes at the entrance. That impression was further strengthened upon reaching the deck of the "S. S. Inter-Club," for the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y, under the direction of Fritz Hessemer and Betty Miller, had indeed done excellent work in transforming our familiar gymnasium into a magnificent ballroom and promenade deck colored in red, white, and blue. Among the most appropriate couples in attendance were Sumner Reid and Betty Evans, presidents of the sponsoring clubs. It was over all too soon when the familiar theme of Jack Heath's Serenaders told the dancers that another successful Inter-Club Dance had passed into the annals of history.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROMENADE

The grandfather's clock in the hall of the Wyomissing Club chimed once. Jack Heath's Orchestra came to life with a burst of music. It was 8:30 and another Junior-Senior Promenade started merrily on its way. Impressions of the evening included whirling couples, white flannels, new spring evening frocks, juniors in the majority, delicious punch. It was indeed sad to hear the same grandfather's clock which had so blithely ushered in the dance three hours before, warn of the close of the dancing, though not of the evening. As this dance was made possible through the very kind cooperation of the chaperons, we take this opportunity to express our gratitude to them.

GERMAN CLUB

The year 1938 saw many things happen in "Der Deutsche Verein." Starting with a reorganization of the club, we rolled merrily along in roller skating parties, and automobiles. Our advisor, Herr Haag, unable to skate, contented himself with bicycling. We saw one cinema performance which was so poor that the President had difficulty remaining awake. Some of the most beautiful singing of old German songs emanated from the hearts of "die Mitglieder," and we wish that all might have heard the dulcet tones of Professor Haag. Officers were: President, Theodore Lunine; Vice President, Betty Hess; and Treasurer, Eugenie Hertzog.

FRENCH CLUB

Le Cercle Francais met on the first Monday of the month with the declared purpose of promoting more fluent parlez-vousing. This year saw the introduction of a rule which made the French more pure if not more fluent—a penny tax was laid on each word spoken in English. Each meeting centered around a short talk on some phase of French life, followed by group discussion of the topic. The programs were enlivened by French games and songs. It became quite a matter of pride to see how much of "Qu' est-ce qu'il yen a?" could be sung before all breath was gone.

STAMP CLUB

The Wyomissing Stamp Club has been one of our most active school organizations. During its six years of existence, the club was addresed by prominent adult philatelists, including Harvey S. Boynton, Woodrow Maloney, and Jerre H. Barr.

The group visited the stamp exhibitions of the Reading Stamp Collectors and the Admiral Byrd Stamp and Coin Club. In both of these it had exhibited frames of stamps.

Other activities of the "hinge-lickers" included stamp auctions, contests, and bartering sessions.

The officers who guided the activities of the club throughout the year were LeRoy Lightner, President; Ruth Apprich, Vice-President; Janet Huyett, Secretary; and Mr. Shirk, Advisor.

CHEER LEADERS

Three juniors and one senior composed the '38 cheerleading staff. This year, rousing an indifferent multitude to frenzied shouts of encouragement, they inspired the team of Wyomissing High on to greater achievement and the spectators to greater sportsmanship.

Due to the late arrival of the new uniforms the cheerleaders did not dazzle the spectators of the athletic events until the tenth game of the basketball season.

This year the cherleeading staff set a precedent by appearing at the track meets. We hope that in years to come cheerleaders will be as successful as the 1938 staff were.

SOCCER

Twenty-five candidates for six vacant positions! That was the condition facing Coach Diedrich as soccer practice started on the first day of school.

The Sunsets displayed excellent form in their first three games, easily winning them. After the third game they became rather erratic and won only two more games. The final standing of the team was five wins, five losses and two stalemates.

Kenneth Gable, a Junior who led the team in individual scoring, was appointed Captain by Coach Diedrich midway through the season.

The other players were Harold Grill, Robert Hamison, David Henderson, Angus Lightner, and Charles Hoffman, seniors, Richard Guilden, Charles Mohn, Paul Martin and Robert Hettinger, juniors, and Henry Seidel the lone sophomore.

Although Wyomissing met with only fair success it was one of the fightiest teams the school ever had.

BASKETBALL

Basketball practice started immediately after the last soccer game. The Sunsets were pre-season favorites to cop the championship due to fine experienced varsity holdovers from the previous year.

Wyomissing was unable to get going early in the season and lost the first three league games. But the team proved it had plenty of intestinal fortitude by winning six of the seven remaining games and finished in second place with a record of six wins and four losses.

The team showed its best form in the last half of the game at Wilson, although Wyomissing was on the short end of the final score. Hopelessly outplayed and outscored the first half, the Sunsets came back and played an excellent defensive and offensive game and gave undefeated Wilson an awful scare.

At the conclusion of the season Harold Grill, a senior, was elected captain. The other players were LeRoy Lightner, senior, Kenneth Gable, Charles Mohn, Richard Guilden, Robert Hettinger, John Frymoyer, and James Ruth, juniors, and Oliver Ginn and Norman Kalbach, sophomores.

TRACK

The first week of March found the track candidates training seriously and enthusiastically. Although there were fewer candidates than in previous years the majority were veterans with several years of experience.

The system of earning track letters was changed. A letter is awarded to the two best men in each event if they participate in the majority of the meets and are in good standing at the conclusion of the season. On the relay team the first four are awarded letters.

SWIMMING

For the first time in Berks County a recognized swimming league was established, composed of five schools. Through the courtesy of the local Y. M. C. A. all meets and practices were held in their pool.

The Wyomissing Swimming Team squad was composed of ten members, but due to rules set up by the school only six were able to constitute the team. Three of these six were able to attain letters. These were Mason Borr, Fritz Ahlfeld, and John Hendricks.

Although not a member of either the team or the squad Robert Mason was very influential in the creations and advancement of the Swimming League.

WYOMISSING HIGH GOLF TEAM

Wyomissing High officially began its golf season on April 18 as Ken Gable defended the laurels of the school by winning his match with the score of three points against no points of his unfortunate victim. Bill Schlegel played a fine game in gaining one-half point but his opponent played a slightly better game with two and one-half points. Marvin Pearce and Billy Mohn lost their matches with scores of nothing to three points for the Hershey men. Bob Matten tied the score of his match with one and one-half points. The Hershey team thus won the match with a total score of ten points against Wyomissing's five. Mr. Rank is the manager of the team.

BOYS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Early in September Mr. Deidrich organized a Boys' Athletic Association. The purpose of the club is to stimulate clean sportsmanship in intra-mural sports. The officers are: President, LeRoy Lightner; Vice-President, Harold Grill; Secretary, Kenneth Gable; Clerk of Records, Todd Buckmiller; and Advisor, Mr. Deidrich. The council consisting of the officers, class athletic representatives, and class captains meet once a month to transact the business that arises. At the conclusion of the year all boys attaining a certain number of points receive awards for their athletic achievements.

The seniors carried off top honors in basketball, volleyball, and ping pong, being undefeated in all three. The sophomores won the soccer championship.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

This fall the G. A. A. embarked in its seventh year at Wyomissing High to be ably led by Bettie Miller, President; Helene Wenger, Vice-President; Helen Harner, Secretary, and Evelyn Haag as Recorder. These girls endeavored to make this year a greater success by furthering its motto: Every Girl for Athletics—Athletics for Every Girl. A friendly spirit of cooperation and competition led to the following winner in Intra-mural sports: Hockey, Seniors; Basketball, Seniors; Volleyball, Soccer, Juniors. Credit for the success of this organization goes to our able leader, Miss Anne Long.

Rear Row—R. Breitinger, E. Hess, E. Haag, H. Harner, E. Miller, J. Golding.

GIRLS' HOCKEY

Make way for the champs!

These girls have successfully held the Hockey Crown since they were freshmen. This is an all-time record, one of which they should be mighty proud. Doris Dives, in their freshman year, taught the girls their team-work which was the main factor for their winnings. The forward line with substituted changes consisted of Doris Dives, Doris George, Antonie Kopf, Elsa Livingood, Betty Hess and Betty Miller. Eugenie Hertzog at goalie was assisted by the backs.

The seniors had a very competent captain, "Tony" Kopf, during their four years.
